

CAMBRIDGE SURVIVAL GUIDE

Welcome to Eastgate at MIT!

This booklet will highlight shopping, food guides, activities and essential tips for getting around town -- with or without a car.

We hope you find this a helpful resource and enjoy your time in the Cambridge/Boston area. This booklet is based on some resources we've been given from our church and both MIT and Harvard references. We took that, and cross-referenced to the Internet and added lots of advice we've received from former and present Eastgate residents. Some of these things we've stumbled upon on our own.

Enjoy!

One person's junk is another person's treasure.

Entire apartments have been furnished by things left on the curb. Try the night before garbage day during key move-in/move-out seasons, particularly in the nice neighborhoods (they usually have nicer furniture).

Yard Sales

Particularly take a look in upscale areas (Belmont, Arlington, Beacon Hill, Back Bay) or in/around student housing towards the end of the school year and throughout the summer.

Big sales are also sometimes listed in the Boston Globe.

Boca Grande

1728 Mass Ave., Porter Sq.

Also found on 1st STREET near Cambridge Side Galleria

Amazing Mexican food in a fun, casual environment. Best burritos we've ever had and many more delicious entrees. Everything is freshly made while you wait. Great for groups and takeout. CASH ONLY.

Tip: There is a Boca Grande on First St., across the street from Cambridge Side Galleria, but the menu is much more limited than at Porter Sq., and it's not as fun an environment. Mostly for business lunches.

Border Cafe

32 Church St., Harvard Sq.

(617) 864-6100

This restaurant is great for a "south-of-the-border meal. Very upbeat atmosphere. Get there early to avoid a wait.

Chili's

Delicious pulled pork sandwiches, cornbread and much more. Large portions. CASH ONLY.

S&S Deli

1334 Cambridge St., Inman Sq.

617-354-0777

Great place for Saturday brunch. Classic deli. Have high chairs, good for families. They are also pretty reasonably priced. Don't recommend the hamburgers, but everything else is good.

Shalimar of India

546 Mass. Ave., Central Sq.

617-547-9280

Great Indian food.

Shawarma King

1383 Beacon St., near Coolidge Corner, Boston

617-731-6035

Great Lebanese food.

Stefani's Pizza

783 Main St., near Central Sq.

617-491-7823

Good pizza, different than the national chains. Prices for one pizza are good. Delivery is fast and free (or maybe just $1) to Eastgate.

Thailand Cafe

302 Mass Ave., Central Sq.

617-492-2494

Great food, great price, as authentic as many, delivers to Eastgate.

Special Date Nights ($12-20/person)

Asian Garden

28 Harrison St., Chinatown

(617) 695-1646

Fish tanks in the basement entryway promise superb Hong Kong seafood. Friendly place, and a cut cheaper than the rest.

Black Sheep Restaurant

Kendall Hotel

350 Main Street, Cambridge

617-577-1300

Very classy place, close walk from Eastgate.

Great Chinese place

Don't know the name, but it's located in Harvard Square, along Holyoke Street and Mass Ave – right next to the T.

Chau Chow City

83 Essex St., Chinatown

617-338-8158

Boston Globe: "Three floors, noisy, crowded, and gaudy, this place has stolen the mantle from China Pearl as the dim sum palace."

Cheesecake Factory

Cambridgeside Galleria

617-252-3810

Great appetizers (try the Thai Lettuce Wraps), entrees, and of course, cheesecake.

* Dali Restaurant and Tapas Bar

415 Washington St., Somerville

Fabulous restaurant for appetizers or a meal's worth of appetizers. Funky atmosphere. Come early on weekends to avoid lines.

Durgin Park

340 North Market St., Faneuil Hall

617-227-2038

Great New England feel, wait staff hired to act and dress as they did in the 1800s. Fun for the whole family, and the food has a "homemade feel." Medium priced.

* Elephant Walk

2067 Mass Ave., near Porter Sq.

A wonderful Frech/Cambodian restaurant. A nice atmosphere, nice for groups. Dress casual.

Legal Seafoods

5 Cambridge Center, right next to MIT Coop
(617) 864-3400

Great restaurant to take your guests to who really have to have the New England seafood and delicious clam "chowda." Their clam chowder has been served at the last 5 Presidential Inaugurations.

Mary Chung's Chinese Restaurant

464 Mass. Ave., Central Sq.

(617) 864-1991

Excellent food, pot stickers are personal favorite. Take out available, no delivery, great ambiance

CASH ONLY.

Midwest Grill

1124 Cambridge St., Inman Square

617-354-7536

Brazilian Rodizian BBQ, lots of meat, very good, pricey ($19 for full all you can eat)

North End of Boston

Parking's not great, best is to walk from the Haymarket T stop along the Freedom Trail

Any restaurant in the neighborhood is worth a try! Some recommendations: Mama Maria ($$$), Limoncello ($$$), Mother Anna's($ - and very family friendly). Some are cash only.

GETTING AROUND IN BOSTON

A few tips and tricks for finding your way around Boston, Cambridge, and beyond

MAPS -- Pick up a good map at any bookstore or gas station. 'Streetwise Boston' is a favorite of downtown Boston and handy to have if you are wandering the streets of downtown. A good road map will help you maneuver the poorly marked roads of Boston and Cambridge.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION - Boston's public transportation system is operated by the MBTA (Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority). The MBTA runs subways, buses, harbor ferries and the commuter rail. Operation time is 5AM to 12:30AM. Many places can be reached easily with buses and subways.

Subway stations and bus stops are marked with a T sign. You can buy tokens (subway tickets) at every subway stop. T-passes are generally only sold four workdays before and four weekdays after the first of each month. Check with the MIT parking office about a discounted T-pass.

CABS - It is relatively easy to get a cab in Boston or Cambridge. Look for cab stations at Kendall Square or in front of the Marriott hotel. A cab ride from Eastgate to the airport will run you approximately $15. From Eastgate to downtown, approximately $7-10.

MIT SHUTTLE - A free MIT shuttle runs from Kendall Square about every 20 minutes and makes frequent stops throughout campus all the way to Westgate apartments, on the opposite end of campus. Check out the webpage for more information: web.mit.edu

ZIP CAR -- A 'zip car' is available for rent on an hourly or daily basis. Cars are located throughout Boston and Cambridge for pick up. One car is even located at Kendall Square! Cars can be rented by signing up for membership at www.zipcar.com. Ask about MIT student discounts. A great way to run a few errands or get out of town if you don't want to own a car.

ONLINE RESOURCES --

www.mapquest.com -- A good website for getting driving directions. However, beware, Boston streets are so confusing, sometimes even Mapquest gets it wrong! Also, they don't account for construction, which is prevalent around town. Consult a real map along with mapquest for best results.

www.boston.citysearch.com -- An excellent web site that gives you up to date information on events happening around town, restaurants, hotels, sightseeing and much more.

GETTING AROUND BOSTON WITHOUT A CAR

Highlighted T Stops and Points of Interest

We've listed whether or not each subway stop has escalators, elevators, or stairs only, to the best of our knowledge. Good to know when dealing with strollers, kids, or just tired feet.

Some tips:

- 1 Be brave: Public transportation is scary at first, but a great way to get around the town.
- 2 T is $1 each way for the most part.
- 3 Bus Fare is $0.75 each way.
- 4 Plan ahead, sometimes even if you have a car it makes more sense to take the T.
- 5 See mbta.com for schedules and other info.
- 6 An inexpensive, lightweight umbrella stroller is easy to carry into the subway and a good investment in this town.

ACTIVITIES

More than you could possibly do in a year (or five)

FREE & LOW-PRICED FUN

Boston Common -- the perfect place for picnics, walking, people watching, etc.

- 1 Shakespeare on the Common -- look for it around July.
- 2 Frog Pond - good for wading in the summer and ice skating in the winter (fee for skate rental, but rink usage is free)
- 3 Freedom Trail -- You don't have to go very far to learn about American history. Stop by the information booth on the Boston Common (near Park St. T stop) and make your way along the red brick trail to visit such sites as Charlestown Navy Yard, U.S.S. Constitution, Faneuil Hall/Quincy Market, the Old North Church, Bunker Hill, etc. As locals, you have the luxury of breaking up the 3 mile self guided tour if you like. The National Park Service also leads a very informative guided tour for free.

Visit the ducks -- anywhere along the Charles or at the Pond in the Public Gardens

Hatch Shell - that big half-dome on the Boston Esplanade by the Charles River

Concerts - classical to rock, mostly free

Revere Beach -- can get there on the Blue Line

Walden Pond (Concord)

Wingaesheck Beach (Gloucester) - Directions on internet

www.gloucesterma.com/beaches.htm. Has white fine sandy beach and is very shallow for a ways out and has tide pools. Great for kids. Water is warm because it is so shallow. Parking is $20/day (weekends) this year and they will only let residents park if it is a busy weekend day.

OUTDOOR/ SPORTS

Participate in the Tufts 10K for Women!!

Every Columbus Day (second Monday in October), Tufts sponsors a 10K walk -- mostly women but men sometimes join, too -- preregister for a discount, and join with friends for a bigger discount. A great, fun way to get in shape in time for the holiday season, and a beautiful walk/jog around the city, starting at Boston Common, walk across the Longfellow Bridge, then right past Eastgate, to the BU Bridge, then back to Boston Common. This is a great autumn walk and is always fun and inspiring. For more details, check out the website: <http://www.tufts-healthplan.com/tufts10k/thp10k.php>

Perhaps an Eastgate group will get together. If interested, please contact the Grad Coordinators, at eastgate-gc@mit.edu.

Esplanade -- perfect for walking, jogging, running, rollerblading, or biking

Head of the Charles -- this nationally famous crew regatta marks the arrival of fall. Walk the banks and cheer on the colorful crew teams as they race down the Charles.

Boston Marathon -- Free to watch every April. Very inspiring. Go cheer for the runners anywhere between Hopkinton and Boston and you might end up on TV!

Somerville "Last Night" 5K -- held December 31st at 11:30PM in Davis Square. A great and healthy way to bring in the New Year!

Canoeing/kayaking -- several places to rent canoes or kayaks on the Charles

DAY TRIPS IN AND AROUND BOSTON

Easy and Exciting Day Trips – Closer than You Think

Arlington-Bedford Bike Path - Paved Bike Path from Arlington to Bedford. This path is 11 miles one way. There are many different places to pick up the trail. If you want to go where it's the prettiest, pick it up in Lexington. This is great for running, walking, and of course, rollerblading.

The Berkshires -- Two hours west of Boston, the rolling hills, beautiful mansions and lakes will take your breath away. Don't miss the exceptional Norman Rockwell Museum. Visit the quaint towns of Lenox, Stockbridge and Lee. Tanglewood Music Center, the summer home of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, offers great outdoor concerts for the whole family during July and August. In the fall, don't miss the changing foliage. For shoppers, there is great outlet shopping in Lee and in Manchester, VT just north of Lee.

The historic Red Lion Inn in Stockbridge is a great place to stay if you want to make a weekend out of it.

www.berkshires.org

Boston Common/Quincy Market -- Venture downtown and ride the swan boats and feed the ducks in the Public Gardens at the Common or venture down to Quincy Market for some shopping and clam chowder at one of the many restaurants. It's best to take the T to Park Street on the Red Line.

Burlington, VT - In northern Vermont, on the banks of Lake Champlain, Burlington is a bustling city with lots to do and see. Approximately a 3 hour drive from Boston, Burlington is home to Ben & Jerry's ice cream company, Vermont Teddy Bear Factory, and borders Stowe Mountain Resort. Ben & Jerry's offers a fun tour of their factory and of course offers samples of their delicious ice cream! The Teddy Bear Factory is fun for kids and also offers factory tours.

www.central-vt.com/web/benjerry/

Stowe is a beautiful mountain town and resort. Great skiing in the winter and beautiful scenic drives in the summer. It's a great place to stay overnight if you want to make a weekend out of it. The Von Trapp Family, featured in the movie the Sound of Music, owned a home there that has been turned into a beautiful lodge with great accommodations year round.

www.trappfamilylodge.com

If you want to extend the trip over a weekend, take the ferry from Burlington across Lake Champlain to Lake Placid region.

Cape Cod -- 2 hours south of Boston is Cape Cod -- land of beautiful beaches, lighthouses, quaint towns, and scenic drives. The Cape is always fun and can be really inexpensive if you go in the off season. Our favorite towns are Chatham (great shopping) and Hyannis. A great day trip but if you want to make a weekend out of it, catch the ferry to Martha's Vineyard or Nantucket from Hyannis.

www.capecod.com

Concord, MA -- A must see! Only a fifteen-mile drive from Cambridge. A quaint town with historic sites such as Walden Pond, the Alcott Home (Little Women author), the Old North Bridge, Emerson's home, Sleepy Hollow Cemetery, etc.

www.frommers.com/destinations/concordma

Gloucester, MA -- America's oldest seaport, Gloucester is located 30 miles northeast of Boston. The stunning, rugged beauty of Gloucester's coastline, the long, sandy beaches and the clear blue Atlantic Ocean have attracted visitors ever since. An attractive downtown, museums and tours on land and sea all make it a great destination.

For a free brochure packet, call 1-800-649-6839 or check out their website, www.gloucesterma.com

Lexington, MA -- A fifteen mile drive from Cambridge, on the way to Concord. The location of the beginning of the Revolutionary War. Don't miss the great multi-media presentation about the beginning of the war at the ranger station at Minuteman National Historic Park. (You can also stop at Wilson Farms just off Rte. 4 -- see "Shopping - Farmer's Markets.")

www.frommers.com/destinations/lexingtonma

Maine - (Ogunquit, Kennebunkport and Kittery) One hour north of Boston. Kittery is a shopper's paradise with tons of outlets and shops to choose from. For info, see www.thekitteryoutlets.com

To experience Maine at its best, though, drive north along scenic Route 1 to Ogunquit, best known for its beach and cliff walk, and then to Kennebunkport, summer home to the Bush family and a quaint waterfront town full of restaurants, shops, and beaches. Don't forget to stop off at a local restaurant for some Maine lobster. The 'Lobster Pound' in Ogunquit is a popular choice for a casual lobster dinner.

Marblehead, MA -- 20 miles north of Boston -- A beautiful yacht and mansion town with a great park on the beach, too. A Christmas walk through the streets of old Marblehead is a must for an authentic New England Christmas. Call the Marblehead Chamber of Commerce at 781-621-2868 for more information.

www.marbleheadchamber.org

Newport, Rhode Island - An hour and a half outside of Boston, this city is full of shopping, beautiful beaches, the mansions on Bellevue Avenue and Ocean Drive, the Cliff Walk -- a 3 mile coastal path that travels behind several estates and much more. For information, see <http://www.newportri.com/>

Old Sturbridge Village, MA -- About one hour west of Boston. People are dressed in the costume of the 1830s and go about their business in character. www.osv.org

Plymouth, MA - 45 miles south of Boston, Plymouth Plantation and the Mayflower are located here. Plymouth Rock, the landing place of the Mayflower is smaller than you would imagine, but a must see. While you're there, make a quick trip to the Cranberry World Visitors Center, 225 Water St., Plymouth (508-747-2350).

Quincy, MA -- 14 miles south of Boston, Quincy is great for John Adams fans or anyone who is interested in the American Revolution. For info, see www.quincyonline.com

Salem, MA - 25 miles north of Boston. Learn about the history of the Salem witch trials. Visit the House of Seven Gables of Nathaniel Hawthorne fame. Things are especially fun around Halloween (but the day of Halloween is not ideal for children -- can get a bit scary with festivities centered around adults). For info, see www.frommers.com/destinations/salemma/

Sharon, VT - 135 miles NW of Boston, this can be a fun trip for LDS families or those curious about LDS history, for it is where Joseph Smith, the first prophet of the LDS Church, was born. Excellent facilities there, Information Center, and fun places for families. For info, see www.sharonvt.org

GETTING AWAY FROM IT ALL

Weekend escape secrets, tried and tested! Proven to relieve you of stress Check out web.mit.edu/mitac for any updated information.

Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard

These two islands off the coast of Cape Cod are wonderful weekend getaway year round. Its possible to do both in the same weekend but experts recommend doing them one at a time.

They are both accessible by ferry from Hyannis, MA and Woods Hole -- see schedules online and island information at www.islandferry.com

What to do: Once on the islands, rent a bike or a car and explore the many beaches, town centers and sights. Both islands are unique and offer different diversions and attractions.

Where to stay: Stay at one of the many bed and breakfasts or rent a cottage with a group of friends through one of the many rental agencies. Check out fodors.com for recommendations. Don't forget to stop at the Chamber of Commerce located near the ferry dock and get maps and brochures (free).

Acadia National Park

Located in Bar Harbor in northern Maine, Acadia is approximately 6 hours north of Boston. It encompasses 47,633 acres of granite-domed mountains, woodlands, lakes and ponds, and ocean shoreline ideal for walking, hiking and biking. www.nps.gov/acad

What to do: By automobile you can drive the 27-mile Park Loop Road which includes views of some of the most dramatic scenery along the eastern seaboard. Other summer activities include fishing, boating, carriage rides, and wildlife viewing. During the winter, the carriage roads and the closed portions of the Park Loop Road are ideal for cross-country skiing and snowshoeing.

Where to stay: If you are the adventurous type, check out one of the many campgrounds available nearby listed on the website. For those of you seeking a quaint B&B or inn, check out accommodations in nearby Bar Harbor center at fodors.com.

New York City

This city is a wonderful weekend getaway no matter what season. With wonderful restaurants, shopping and hotels, you can't go wrong! You can sometimes find great round trip airfare, but it's also recommended taking the Amtrak train from Boston's South Station. You really don't need a car in NYC and parking can be very expensive (and difficult to find). For more info, see <http://www.nycvisit.com/home/index.cfm>

About once a year, MIT Spouses and Partners or MITAC usually offers a great deal for a NYC bus trip -- starting early in the morning and getting home again that very night. Check out the website: web.mit.edu/mitac.mit.edu/medical/spousesandpartners for any further information.

What to do: Take in a Broadway show, stroll through Central Park, shop on 5th Ave., and visit one of the many museums. Take a circle line boat tour around Manhattan island or enjoy a day of shopping along the streets of Soho.

Where to Stay: A few favorite and convenient hotels are the Doubletree Times Square, The Marriott Times Square, The Westin Essex House on Central Park, and the St. Regis on Fifth Avenue.

Theatre Tip from the Pros: You can get half price tickets to Broadway shows at the TKTS booth in Times Square on the day of the show. Tickets are $37.50 and you must pay in cash. Shows available vary, but are posted at 2 pm on a large screen outside the booth. The booth opens at 3 pm so get in line early. Otherwise, for advance ticket purchases, see ticketmaster.com. playbill.com lists all Broadway and Off-Broadway shows currently running with a brief description.

Quebec City/Montreal

This romantic, French-speaking city in Canada is a great weekend getaway. The cobble-stoned streets and sidewalk cafes are reminiscent of Europe. Approximately 7 hours by car or you can fly into Montreal and rent a car to reach Quebec City. Montreal is another beautiful city and could be done in conjunction with Quebec City. Visit www.quebecregion.com for more information.

What to do: Don't miss the Notre Dame Basilica, Chateau Frontenac, a horse-drawn carriage ride, a stroll along the Terrasse Dufferin to the Citadelle to see the impressive changing of the guards ceremony. Don't forget the exchange rate is in our favor.

Where to stay: There are many fine hotels and restaurants to choose from and lots of boutiques and shops.

Lake Placid:

Located in the northeastern portion of the Adirondack wilderness of New York State, approximately 5 hours from Boston, the Lake Placid region is a popular year-round resort. The Olympic facilities used for the 1932 and 1980 Olympic Winter Games. For info, see <http://www.lakeplacid.com/>

What to do: Don't miss the bobsled run, a Gondola ride on Whiteface mountain, aerial displays year round, Santa's workshop, Highfalls Gorge and a biathlon course.

Where to stay: A wide range of accommodations are available. A few favorites are the Mirror Lake Inn, The Hilton Resort, and the Hyatt on Mirror Lake.

Where to eat: For a great casual BBQ lunch, try Tail-O'-The-Pub, a five-minute drive from the lake, but well worth it. For dinner, try Great Adirondack Steak and Seafood - a great atmosphere.
